

Ellerton

Directions

Ellerton is approximately 18km south of central Kandy.

From Colombo you will come in at Peradeniya; cross the river; and at the roundabout take the road towards Galaha and the university.

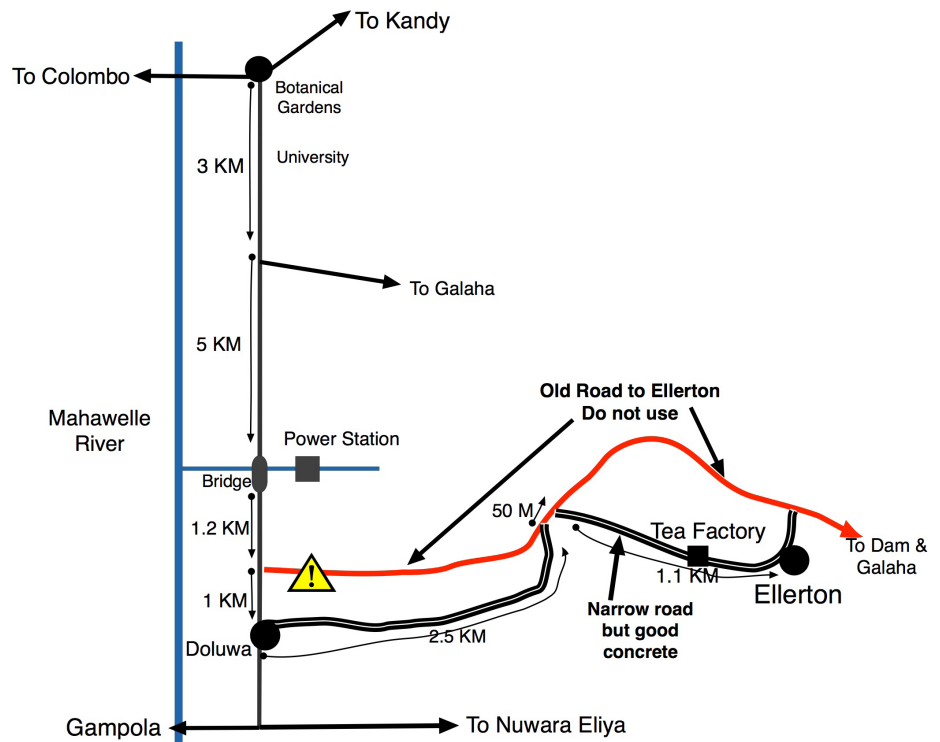

From Kandy take the Peradeniya road, which goes due south out of Kandy; come to the first roundabout, and then (as above) to the second roundabout – i.e. towards Galaha and the university.

The road goes through the university campus, and 3.5km from the second roundabout is a “Y” junction; take the right hand road, signposted to Gampola.

After 5.4 km you cross a river with a small power station on the left.

Previously, after a further 1.2 km you would take the left turn up the hill. Do not take this road which has deteriorated badly. Instead, continue through a 1 km on the main road until Doluwa town, and as you enter it, take the left turn on an excellent road up a steep hill. There is an Ellerton signpost here.

The road winds up the hill for approximately 2.5 km on a good tarmac surface. However, you will go down a hill and there is a short period of gravel road for 50 metres, with our original road coming up on your left. After the 50 metres, you will see a narrow concrete road rising steeply on your right. Although not perfect, the surface is generally excellent, and after 1 km you will descend through the tea factory which is above Ellerton, and at the end of the factory you will see the Ellerton Gate.

To return, go straight ahead out of the Ellerton Gate; through the factory, and at the end of the factory take the right fork; go over the hill and when you join the main road turn left; very quickly you will be on the carpet road down to Doluwa; turn right to Kandy or left for Gampola
